MARTY LYONS Marty Lyons was born in Takoma Park, Washington, on January 15, 1957. He played football at the University of Alabama and matured under the guidance of the late Paul "Bear" Bryant. Lyons was recognized as an All-American in 1978 and elected captain of the NCAA Division 1 National Champion football team that same year. In recognition of his outstanding achievements. Lyons was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame, Class of 2011, on his first-time appearance on the ballot. He joins an elite group where less than 1% achieves such distinction. Lyons' athletic skill propelled him to be a first-round pick by the New York Jets in the 1979 National Football League Draft. His entire professional football career spanned 11 years with the Jets, during which time he played both defensive tackle and defensive end. He played a key role in the formation of the "New York Sack Exchange." Together with teammates Mark Gastineau, Joe Klecko, and Abdul Salaam, Lyons helped lead the 1981 Jets to a franchise-record 66 sacks and the team's first playoff appearance since 1969. The "New York Sack Exchange" led the NFL in sacks for three of four seasons (1981, '83, and '84). The Jets made the playoffs four times during Lyons' career. In 1984, he was named National Football League's "Man of the Year". In 2002, Lyons joined ESPN Radio as a Color Analyst on the NY Jets game broadcasts. Lyons co-founded the Marty Lyons Foundation in 1982, dedicated to fulfilling the wishes of children ages 3 to 17 who have been diagnosed as having terminal or life-threatening illnesses. Lyons is the Chairman of the Board, fundraiser, wish grantor, book author, and everything in between all dedicated to children in need.
